Phil

Hello again. Phil here. Look, we've been shipwrecked on a desert island somewhere in the Indian Ocean. I thought we were going to be castaways, marooned here forever but luckily Passepartout is over there fixing our yacht.

We need to get going quickly because we've lost Sophia – she's fallen overboard somewhere out there in the huge ocean. Where could she be? I think I'll make some tea and collect a few of these coconuts until the yacht is ready. I'll see you later.
